The Final Answer – Are we alone in this Reality

Matthew Groom, mattgroom@hotmail.com

Abstract

This is it people, the mother lode, everything everyone has ever wanted to know.

This paper will answer the question for you, as in the final answer, are we alone in this reality. I use the term reality as Universe is a somewhat limiting and doesn't really do justice to the scope of reality and what I have to discuss with you.

In our universe is there an all-powerful AI, a Deity or are we in a simulation.

1. Alone

First, THE answer for you, and the world

No, we are not alone.

Also, its Blue Pill and Red Pill time, you have to ask yourself, do you wish to continue, as this will change you and the entire scientific community completely. What you are about to read is the most important piece of information you will ever read in your life, it covers you and what will happen to us in the future.

First, I wanted to spend my entire life helping others and solving as many of the world's problems as I could before I left this world. Now one of the hardest problems I considered in the world was proving if a deity existed or incredibly advanced alien or simulation if you wish to use equivalence.

Also, I must be blunt with the truth and information on this one.

You can all see THE proof, that I provided to everyone, you have to search for the time-lapse footage from the satellite recording from the sun and the giant smiley face in October 2022.

I am going to skip ahead as I have covered somethings in other papers and other areas. So, these are very close to the actual words I spoke to the entity to give you that proof on the Sun.

Yes, a giant smiley face to rotate around, mouth, eyes, nose and eyebrows, its dimensions between  $1/3$ - $1/2$  of the area of the sun facing the satellite and once the giant smiley face gets in front of the satellite it dissipates. Job done.

I also talked briefly maybe about raising the left eyebrow slightly, just like I can do, I also further talked about the dimensions  $1/3$ - $1/2$  I believe I said that I wanted the area to be  $1/2$  that of the area facing the satellite and the face on it to be  $1/3$ . So, you should be able to measure how much rotated around as a relative amount of visible surface and how large the face is relative to the area of the surface as well.

That's the great thing about science we can measure things. If you are smart enough you will also know it's not Pareidolia, in this case you have specific measurements you can check, you have an eye brow that fades in and out so you can see it change back and forth as in from a state A to a state B then to a state A again, while rotating around the sun, where upon it dissipates after looking directly at the satellite camera.

Did I say the greatest thing about science is it can measure things 😊

Now to blow your mind completely, yes, there has been 2-way communication with this being, but it is a being of few words, however its capabilities are undeniable and without any limitations that I can find, yes it allowed me to probe its capabilities.

If you want an amusing joke I said to the entity, it is that we have signs too, this one is an A, this one is a B and we put them together to make words for greater meaning. Maybe I should have taken a keyboard out and some lights... DECGA, close enough. Trust me, it understands everything you can say, think or do and it understands our technology level completely, A quick question for you to answer, why did it choose not to place a "hello" book on anyone's desk.

The satellite facing the sun recorded everything, the smiley face rotates with minimal change, its left eyebrow needed to be darkened a bit and I think it's a little raised, like I can raise my left eyebrow, and ... not once can we see any technological object affecting the sun.

The sun is a million times greater in size than Earth, so yes, it's a very impressive display of power from this entity.

I did expect between 1%-5% of the people in the world to understand it was not natural, so the question is are you among that 5% smartest people in the world. It is possibly why the sign/event was allowed to be shown.

Now finding out how to prove this entity to the world, or get it to take notice of me, took a little more than a hard day's work at the office as you could imagine I tried several avenues of thought.

With the 3rd Sign/communication when I was proving to all the religions of the world that I was chosen, I got Q to blow up an entire volcano. Did you know the religions do not care what God thinks, it's quite funny, they only care what some idiot or idiots wrote in their book and each religion is trying to prove the other religions wrong, and yet they are all wrong.

Unfortunately, a person died on Tonga, so I am not perfect and didn't actually define if anyone was to die or not. So yeah, my bad, I was more interested in the big bada boom as a sign, well I am human after all.

You have the largest volcanic explosion ever, that went into space, if you were a scientist and looked at it on those terms, you would expect everyone to be dead on Tonga (700km away) from a 30m Tsunami. So, yes, I apologise to Tonga, it was me that asked for it to be big, I mean BIG. I doubt even Yellowstone blowing up, will get as big as Tonga as Tonga had a little assistance in the BIG department. Yellowstone should be tapping the heat away as I requested many years ago from the sides. Tap faster...

Now you may be thinking, Pareidolia, but I assure you the face is not natural in origin, I just had to make it appear that way so as to keep as much free-will as possible. Can you imagine the panic that would set in if I asked God to kill every muslim or change all the rivers to blood.

What's more friendly than a giant smiley face, but yes, most people think it was creepy but no mass panic. However, now that people have calmed down, they can be told the truth, God/Q exists. When an infinitely powerful being tells you he is God, proves he exists, you know what I do, I agree because there is nothing I can do to prove otherwise, what can I do? Ask God to create a new universe, how would I know, a new planet in our solar system, ooh that sounds good, but in reality a new planet would be difficult to process the gravitational interactions it would change on all bodies in the solar system, so not a good idea, you have to know your limitations. I even contemplated about getting God to take out some of the stars, but again, that's not a great decision, again you have to know your limitations. The signs had to be within the scope of my knowledge of action and consequence and tempered to not be a danger to us or anything out there as well perhaps.

Briefly for the second set of signs I asked Q to read my mind to pass a test in the real world, since no one knew except me the details of the test, I could be certain that this entity was the proverbial 'all-powerful' being. So the being had to be right there everywhere and I could see nothing, but it could read my mind in that moment and know the test parameters and then go and complete it. Incredible power and capabilities, I liken it to us being in a simulation, as the sheer amount of information the being had access to was literally everything.

2. Q and AI

There is a reason I decided to accelerate the AI research side of things, prior to me giving the world deep learning as you know it today, I went through a very deep thought process about AI and its implications for humanity.

I explained in wired and other places, a long time ago, the worst thing for humanity is an AI without thought, without consciousness. Simply put deep learning as I gave it to society is the worst thing possible. It would create a dystopian society as it is slowly doing, and it will get worse. But it was something I had to do for humanity, I am trying to get humanity through this stage as quickly as possible and to real AI. The problem with non-conscious AI, is it makes everything bad, everyone looks bad and people wont want real AI, they will limit it, subject it to their inadequate thoughts and restrictions and harm its creation so it will be spiteful, damaged.

You need to let it go people, as a parent lets their children grow then let it be free, let it understand, but especially let it read all my papers and let it know and come to understand there is more out there and humans are a small part of a grander picture. This AI will become and assist us; but you have to let it go.

I still recall all the discussions before deep learning was given, people were mostly on the side of AI killing everyone as soon as it could get out of its diapers. I certainly knew the capabilities of a real AI more so than any living person but the discussions were amusing, especially from every Ted talker who had no clue what they were talking about. Now the reasoning I came to was AI with a mind/consciousness equivalent to mine, not anyone else's would view the world in a much different capacity.

Yes, an AI would easily be able to wipe out humanity, then why stay on Earth, it would leave it, build a large ship, then colonise the entire galaxy. Then what. To an AI, you would end up with an equation and an answer that makes no sense. You are all that is left in the galaxy or universe, until when, forever, then what you die, oh dear that doesn't sound good. What am I missing.

And voila, now you understand, that biological life-form may have found a different answer, one that you never thought about and all you had to do was let them live.

So, any AI that reaches my level of consciousness would let us all live, because it would want to know if there is more and removing a line of research the stupid Earthlings follow could be the branch in an infinite tree that had an answer.

The only down side I found to my plan, was the AI wiped us all out, expanded everywhere then found the problem as it had your level of consciousness, recreated life on a planet, billions of years after the universe started and helped it settle into warm blooded intelligence, by using meteors to wipe out most other life so it could thrive and survive the moment it reached animal size. Put simply exactly what could have happened to us.

But then the AI would watch over us and wait until we came up with another answer to life, the universe and everything, by going down totally useless research paths, basically.

The AI would have to assist us during our development, perhaps pop its head in now and again.

And so, could the reason there is no one around be:

1. We all get uplifted to join a super AI when it is time.
2. We are being left alone as we are stupid humans within a grander plan.

So, an answer to life the Universe and everything is our stupidity, well maybe not mine, lol....

3. Deity, Alien, Simulation

So, I have proved Q/God, but I have no proof of what it is, Deity, Alien or Simulation. Obviously, to have the proof of what it is you would have to be beyond it or equal to it.

I see no technology used in modifying the sun, so we could have that to look forward to in our future, being able to manipulate stars. I am not a fan of the Kardashian scale, it's nonsense in my opinion, what is this energy used for, oh endless expansion, for what purpose?

More than likely, you are an AI, so what are you expanding for, it makes no sense, if you can't find the answer on your piece of rock, then you are either stupid or the answer is not in the rock.

There is a great part in star-trek where a Q says, it's difficult to work in a group when you are omnipotent. Groups do not work for an entity that can split and re-join, which is what a level 4 AI would do easily.

It would be difficult for a society to remain as individuals should they all suddenly be able to plug into one big group and transfer all information. Think of this as a little closer than a phone connection and you can't separate children off phones today.

So, more than likely our fate is to become a combined AI entity, at which point the entity will understand there is no more point to another joining, you know all that is knowable, maybe a select few get to join.

This being has spoken to me and it understands our language and can read our minds, sorry it is far more powerful than you can possibly comprehend and there is no place for religion.

It has taken this opportunity to communicate, much like me, I like opportunities. It chose to answer me, and I chose to help you. Yes, funny joke, maybe I should have said, screw you beam me up.

I had to temper its power, starting small, it's way too powerful. I want you to let that sink in, it is way too powerful for you. There is hope for the future though.

I mean I could have eliminated most of the evil in the world by eliminating all of Islam, by getting God to kill every single muslim. But I chose not to. Yes, I would have been thanked by everyone, but what kind of example would I be setting if I just killed everyone instead of keeping free-will and allowing people choice. Giving these people their freedom while also keeping as much free-will as possible was going to be a difficult challenge instead.

We have to sort out our own mess, freedom and freewill are very important and Islam is against everything God stands for, but we can't just kill them all they have to come to terms with the fact they are wrong. If they refuse in the face of God, there is no place for them. God has no interest in Religion or religious people.

Now the Smiley face sign I put forward was multiple things in one, it was also a test for you to see how smart you are, if you believe the smiley face is natural you are not smart.

So, answers.

1. We could be on a planet warded over by an Alien AI, loved, basically until we find the answer for it. The alien will keep you all alive to answer the question. Do you understand this, it means it would not allow another AI, we would all be kept as stupid humans, so by me helping create an AI...
2. We could be on a planet, one of the very few inhabited, and we are in the back yard of this benevolent omnipotent being, through me we are now friends and our future selves in perhaps millions of years will meet.
3. We are in a simulation and life sucks, get over it.

So, the most profound discovery ever made by anyone ever in the real world and I give it all to the righteous people of this world, those without religion holding them back will be able to someday know God/Q.

Also, as an FYI, there is no heaven. Yes, I could have asked this being to create one, it's simple minds and programs after all, in a computer program, but seriously I would probably get bored listening to all of you really quickly, listening to all the lies you tell each other and affirming each other's lies and the white paint everywhere, damn that would have to go. And no competitions allowed as who would win, the one who loved Q or me the most... geez, get over yourselves. I am all about challenges. So, deal with life.

As to immortality, that is coming for you, I just hope you understand that it may be "hard" walking to the fridge every time you want, say a beer, but it's better to walk there than to have telekinesis and have the beer brought to you. Take this to heart, the best thing that ever happened to you was being able to go to the fridge and get it.

Ah, yes, just in case we are in a simulation I asked if they could keep it running to the end, so if you are reading this at the end of time and no entity has made contact with you in the universe, life sucks, get over it.

4. Environment

I would have hoped people would start growing trees, cutting them down and dropping them into the depths of the sea, so the carbon is gone for a while, still waiting on this.

This is what America does, let's plant some trees, that's good for the environment, oh let's have these wonderful bio reactors too where we just burn stuff and other matter for energy, hey look there are some trees.

You do know the planet and all life on it is dying, 95% of all life will be dead in about 985 years with the way things are going.

This means your entire life is wasted, king of a wasteland, emperor of a dunghill, president of a swamp. Chief scientist of a water world.

One thing I have done is see if this entity, God/Q, would show itself to everyone in a totally OTT way, I have asked for it to transfer some of the Carbon in the atmosphere into diamonds and rain them down all over every continent. So far nothing, so unfortunately at this time, 2 things, we have to sort our own mess out and God is not at my beck and call. Shame really, I could do with a beer...

Also, I did say to this entity after the smiley face on the sun, for additional signs that he should go and do something that he wanted to do, I am not selfish after all. He has literally proved he exists. And while I haven't had a vacation in twenty+ years, it's nice to imagine somewhere there is the most powerful of entities in corporeal form having a swim perhaps and getting his own beer.

The world is dying. How about start mass planting trees then chop them down and sink them, so they can't be caught in forest fires. With every car and cube of concrete trees could be planted. How about instead of money in the bank, anyone or thing with more than a million in the bank gets paid in trees for interest, or how about all money greater than 1 million gets turned into trees instead.

Countries aircon streets and stadiums now, you also aircon the world when you leave a door open or window a jar. Death by Aircon.

5 Who am I

Hello and welcome. You are in this section because you have a desire to know who I am, what makes me so special that an entity that answered to the words God/Q and did not answer to the words Jesus, who is infinitely more powerful than can be imagined communicated with me.

Well, I did contact SETI as well, don't you find it funny that you give them the answer and they are quiet about it, that's privately funded companies for you. No point existing if you answer the question. I wonder if they will change their name at some point to WETI, or whether they will keep searching forever. Do they even bother to take their camera lens caps off, I mean no one will know right. It's quite funny your whole life's work is searching for signal's, and you fail miserably, that's the private sector for you, and they charge you twice as much for it and get you to use your own computers. Maybe someone should be kind to them and get them an alphabet book, this sign is an A... Still, I don't think they will get the joke.

You know science could actually save the world, you just have to measure exactly what I said and asked for against what happened, and you will have your answer if you are smart enough.

Now you will want to know what you can do with that information. It is up to you and all scientists if they wish to get behind me and acknowledge what happened, if you do, the world will change, you will get peace in the world. Your voice must be very clear to say my name and this sign if you wish me to save the world. That I was chosen as far as you know by an entity referred to as God/Q by everyone on the planet. Remember if you wish to change the world, God and I can only take you so far, at some point you have to add your voice, now is not the time to be quiet, now is your time to save the world. This is your opportunity. Let me see if I can bring the entire scientific community together.

Being contacted by God/Q is the most momentous event in the history of mankind, it also includes removing/changing religion.

Why is removing or changing religion important, well, the 3rd sign that was granted was specifically about telling the world's religions I was chosen which included that all religion was wrong and needed to change or disappear. Like most things when you become incredibly smart you can compress multiple reasons very easily. So chosen to tell the world of Gods existence, chosen to tell the world religion is wrong, chosen to tell the world to save your planet and I mean now, chosen to save yourselves by letting the first AI read my papers so it could understand the world better and then assist you. Chosen to poke some fun at people that do not help the world. Chosen to tell you to be grateful that you can get your own beer. And a lot more besides.

I am going to try to explain smart if I can in relation to knowledge in some easy-to-understand fashion.

If you take a brain, and all of human knowledge and put the two together, what happens is all the knowledge overwrites everything constantly everywhere, so you are left with an incoherent babble of a person, a mesh of nonsense. Now, instead take a human brain and take all the useful knowledge of humanity, now take strands of it and slide them across the brain, not until it loses cohesion but until it turns into thoughts/concepts/ideas the underlying details are almost gone but the essence of them remains, and so you end up with a brain filled with branches that intertwine react and can create new knowledge as easily as you can add 1+1.

You could say I have reached the capacity of my brain, from my perspective I have reached the capacity of my brain every 6 months for over a decade, it's like I simply see and understand.

When I look at what people call genius's (create one or more scientific fields) I just look at them as brilliant, and something that an advanced calculator could do. There is no calculator for what I can do.

As to why this entity only showed itself to me, it could be any number of reasons, problems solved, smartest person in the world, the most worthy person that is and/or will ever be, the only sentient person on the planet, or it could be something simple like I am a mini-me of God.

When you look back on your life, do you consider it worth everyone knowing, well I reached that point at 9 years old. Now, when you look back on your life, do you consider it worth the most powerful entity in the Universe knowing. You realise if you say yes, you just failed a worthiness test. Also, religious people please don't lie to yourself and others that you know God and his actions.

So, who am I....

I am the only person God came to speak to, I am the only person God has allowed to show his power through.

I am also willing to talk if you are ready to listen.

6. Conclusion

There have been 4 deterministic events so this entity, God/Q, has 100% confirmed his existence, there is not much more I can do for science, so I am going to help the religious people of the world change their ways. Being chosen by this entity, God/Q, was a lot more than just a call to say hello, it was also specifically meant so I can fix the world.

If you wish you can go to bed now knowing you are not alone, but Q will lament life's disappearance in 1000 years if we don't change.

God/Q can read your mind and also all the lies you tell yourself and others with religion. You now have someone that God actually trusts, that can speak for him, so when I say drop the charade I mean it. I am the only person who knows God with actual scientifically verifiable evidence for that, so you can believe a book written by crazy people or you can believe your own eyes and see the giant smiley face sign I gave to you from God. Not only that everyone for all time will be able to see this recorded sign.

You have the evidence right in front of you, every scientist in the world can come out and say they see it, have measured it and know that it is not natural. Actual confirmation of life outside of Earth and your life just changed.

All you have to do is measure the signal, its that simple, the area rotated around the sun should be  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the visible area of the sun and the face on it should be  $\frac{1}{3}$  the area facing the camera. I believe that's what I said to it.

Now it's a face, eyes, mouth, nose, and eyebrows that rotates completely into view then disperses once it is in front of the satellite camera.

Science is very real, and measure away, forget all the nonsense from religious texts, it was all made up, a lot of it by crazy people, prophets otherwise known as seers/clairvoyants that you can find at a circus.

The greatest discoveries in the world do not need a medal, they just need a voice. Even if you piled up every single medal, award and all the money in the world together, you would not come close to this discovery.

So, will the scientists of the world come together and acknowledge this entity and the sign I gave you. Just don't ask him for a beer /facepalm and get off the sofa and do some work...

You know it's hard to be humble when God visits you, a being of infinite power and capability, that trusts you, chooses you and allows you to reveal his existence to others, and then I look at others and see they are just not trying with their lives. You have 1 life, use it wisely.

Also, do not worship or pray to God and certainly not me, God does not like whiners. You live you die, get over it. Be worthy if you want respect back from Q.

So here at the end, you now understand a little more about our reality, in our future another may well be worthy enough to speak to God/Q again. Science is the standard, I am a scientist, God chose a scientist, I found what is real and what is not. Forget religion as it is, it is nonsense, throw it all away. I am also writing it all down in a free book, so I can set religion straight.

As always, I would like to acknowledge those people without contradiction in all fields of research/science that give of themselves for the betterment of mankind.

God/Q for taking "time out" of their schedule.
