

How New Scientists are Brain-washed

June 12, 2013
Jeffrey J Wolynski
Jeffrey.wolynski@yahoo.com
Cocoa, FL 32922

Abstract: It is given explanation as to how new young scientists are brainwashed to believe what ever their professors want them to believe.

Young adults are first taught that the universe is unintelligible unless they know mathematics. Next they are taught that mathematics tells them that the universe came out of nothing via Big Bang without reason or cause. With these two very powerful mind viruses the professors can then make up whatever they want and invent things that do not exist such as dark matter, dark energy, black holes, higgs bosons, etc. The list is endless. Unless the young students get taught first to ignore their intuition and ability to reason, then the black holes, math reality will never stick in their minds. They have to be taught to ignore their intuition. Though this process of many years an originally bright, inquisitive mind becomes calcified and ceases the ability to critical think, as the intuitive mind remains permanently dormant and unused in favor of twisted fantasy rooted in mathematics. The leader of this mess is Stephen Hawking.