

Flux Particle Theory

by James Cranwell

Everything in the Universe is made from one type of particle.
All workings of the Universe are result from said particle.

YOU ARE FOOLED INTO BELIEVING THE TRUTH

Everything is made from strings (not the string theory type).

Strings (from any theory) are supposedly one dimensional 1-D.

Clusters of strings form protons, neutrons, electrons and when they group together they make atoms. Atoms of course form everything matter -- that includes you.

So you think you are 3-D but you are actually made from 1-D strings

A string of course has a length but it would also have to have an infinitesimally small thickness, that would give it a height and width, or three dimensions 3-D.

So you are fooled into thinking you are 3-D but it is actually the truth.

You are fooled into believing the truth.
