Consideration of Parallel Universe

Toshiro Takami

[Abstract]

I put memos and letters in the Tesla coil and I am hoping that it will fly in the past and change the present.

It might be like a dream. However, since there is only this method, I am challenging it.

[Discussion]

The parallel universe is also called a different dimension both in the spiritual world and has been confirmed from religion etc. since it has existed for a long time. Religion can not exist without spirituality.

I was convinced that the existence of the world is certain by detailed listening to the auditory hallucination of schizophrenic patients.

The detailed listening is (Top is Japanese only, bottom is Japanese and English).

I have often read "Silver Birch's Spiritual Learning" as a trustworthy spiritual lesson, but I heard that the spirit world, that is, the parallel universe has many good spirits and few evil spirits. However, it seems that a few evil spirits are harming us who live in the real world (the real world). It seems to be caused by this demon spirit.

In the parallel universe, various mammals and human beings live in a relaxed way, it is written in "the learning of Silver Birch". There is no conflict there. Of course there is no war.

The time travel (I'm going to go to the past and recommend attention and prevent misfortune from happening) but I feel impossible from this parallel universe.

As time travel back to the past, we recommend attention and prevent misery from happening, so the author is trying hard as a necessity to do it. I have written letters and memos into the Tesla coil in anticipation that the spacetime will be distorted with high voltage current (ie Tesla coil), but it is still operating, but the present reality still does not change. I hoped that letters and notes put in the Tesla coil flew in the past and recommend their attention to the past.

A few years ago I fell down the stairs and folded my neck, and I have a good friend who is bedridden high school days. He will be saved if he recommends his attention. We can save many others. I can save myself.

In the parallel universe, I often feel strongly that the guardian spirit is protecting me and have a strong gratitude. I think that the spirit of protection is a grandfather who loved me, but since I have been obviously protected even before my grandfather died, I am thinking that it is a person other than my grandfather. Anyway I think I am one of my ancestors.

We ordered parts from China and built three Tesla coils. One made a big thing with a letter, but there is no place to place only beside a personal computer (there is a danger of ignition, so you have to put it in a place where you can notice it. In addition, The power is turned off and it is for fire prevention), the big Tesla coil can only unplug the power when using a personal computer. This is due to abnormal operation of the personal computer.

Depending on the position of the moon, letters and notes in the Tesla coil fly to different places and expect to fall to the place where people can see (roads etc.). I put a 100 yen commemorative stamp on the letter, but at that time that stamp would have never been. However, I write my past family in the past as an address.

I will also write my address in my past in the past in the memo also in the memo and hope that someone who picks up will give us the address. The problem is that the house where I live now is close to none to enter people in the perfect mountain 20 years ago.

I expect that notes and letters will fall on different places such as roads where people pass.

I expect that it will depend on the position of the moon.

There is one more problem. Whether the note or letter will fly in the past. It is nothing to fly in the future. Whether to fly in the past or to fly in the future is sweet (most likely not to fly anywhere) if the coil is influenced by whether it is clockwise or counterclockwise.

In the past, there was a time when I worried about whether Tesla coil coils are right-handed or left-handed.

The letter uses a stylish envelope. I expect that this will be delivered to the place where the address is written.

However, one month has passed since the operation started, but the reality does not change at all. There is also a reserve that it is impossible, but today, it is possible to send notes and letters in the past with Tesla coil, confirming that there are several times that time slip occurred in the Great East Japan Earthquake and the Chernobyl Nuclear Power Plant accident (Just like the idea of a university professor in the US, it is only necessary to send information to the past, sending humans to the past and to the future is considered extremely dangerous).

I do not know the Chernobyl nuclear accident, but it is certain that in the Great East Japan Earthquake a large amount of haarp (the principle is Tesla coil, depending on ultra high pressure electromagnetic waves) is used.

Ultrahigh gravity distorts the spacetime, but the toshichan-man theory writes that the super high pressure and the spacetime are distorted.

The biggest problem is where the notes and letters fall? I believe. Do you have to do it by a person passing through decades ago, such as a road? I believe.

Depending on the location of the moon, changing the place where the memo or letter falls is also a convenient idea.

The American professor also thinks where the information is sent as the greatest problem.

I think that American professors should do using Tesla coils as well. To distort the spacetime in the spacetime, I judged that the grass under the high voltage cable grows very high. There is no reason to explain anything other than this.

I sympathized very much with the idea of an American professor and thought about sending an email, but I did not know the mail address yet, I have not sent it yet.

I also conducted a hospitalized stellate nerve block by a low power laser, it was expelled from a university hospital, and since then I have been having a hard time. I pridefully believe that it is an authority of Japan for the application of low power lasers to autonomic imbalance (However, there is no publication of papers, application of low power lasers to autonomic imbalance and so on It seems to think).

I sent a lot of very important information to the Meruad I used to use. It completely exceeds 100 times. However, today I learned that the mail was sorted as a non-delivery mail, and I was discouraged to understand why the present reality does not change for this reason.

However, the obsession to change the present reality in my past letters and memos is very strong. That may be the best reason why my present situation is very strict. Originally it is necessary to send information to the past for people.

In addition, I am strongly thankful and strongly thankfully for the reason why I have survived somehow while still being tough but still protected from the guardian spirit.
