What was Atlantis?

According to Plato, Atlantis existed off the coast of Gibraltar. But Atlantis was clearly a kingdom and a world empire that strange enough made war against Europe (Critias 108, Timaios 24-25). Before Noah's Flood there were no kings let alone islands. The earth was one big leap of land (Genesis 1:10).

The first kingdom world empire we meet in the Bible was the Babylonian Empire of Nebuchadnezzar. This empire ended around 470 BC when Cyrus of Persia invaded Babylon. This Persian empire was the second world empire. Atlantis could not have existed before these world empires. Even more: Plato wrote that Greece was in the game. This is exactly what we read in Daniël 2 & 7. After the Persians, Alexander the Great came and founded his Greek-Macedonian World empire. He made Babylon his headquarters. In Daniel 2:39 this Greek empire was compared with copper. This sounds as the aurichalcum in the temple of Poseidon (Critias 116, 119). For this reason Atlantis could not have existed before Alexander. It was Alexander who destroyed Tyrus in Lebanon. The destruction of Tyrus as foretold in Ezekiel 26-28 sounded similar to the destruction of Atlantis. In Daniel 2 & 7 we read about another mighty and terrifying kingdom which is again Greek in nature. This is the Greek empire of the Endtimes as mentioned in Daniel 2:40 & 7:23.

This means that things were mirrored. Plato's western dimension of Atlantis in the ocean was the sunset dimension. It was the underworld. The physical part of Atlantis is this Greek empire of the Endtimes. This means that Atlantis is not an island but a "project". Greece is a part of Europe. While Athens is it's capital, it is Brussels that is the capital of the European Union. This scheme will be mirrored on the Middle East when the Greek empire rises. Athens will still be the capital of Greece. But Babylon will be the common Greek-Macedonia Fourth Empire of the Endtimes. A new Alexander will rise and will take his seat again in Babylon. He will conquer Jerusalem and put his statue in the third temple. As there was a statue of Poseidon in the temple on Atlantis (Critias 116). With a Greek Fourth Empire, Atlantis will be a European project and a mirrored European Union in the Middle East. Atlantis is not an island but Greek imperialism. It will be a dualistic empire that dances around Babylon and Jerusalem. Or it will be a triangle empire if Athens is included within it.

Let us not focus on the 9000 years before Plato when Atlantis had existed. This is simply nonsense. Herodotus wrote that the temple of Melqart (Heracles) in Tyrus was already 2300 years old in his time (Herodotus, Histories, Godley vert. 1920, book 2:44). This is nonsense since Melqart could only exist after the incident with the Migdol in Babylon (Genesis 11). Which happened 2242 years before the baptism of Christ. There was a cyclus of 70 year weeks in the Bible that started with the decree of Cyrus and ended with the death of Stephan, followed by a year of Jubilee. Six years before the death of Stephan, Christ was baptized. So the 70 year weeks count to the baptism of Christ and not to His birth. In the Egyptian Book of the Dead, Osiris claimed that he was millions years old (Verb 42). Neither Osiris, neither Herodotus talked about the different aions that the Bible is using (scripture4all.org). The confusion about old civilizations had already begun in Egypt. I would not pay too much credit to claims that a mighty Atlantis empire existed in a very remote past.
